

Marion Street Highrise
(Columbia Housing Authority)

The fundamental mission of the Columbia Housing Authority (CHA) is to provide safe, decent housing for families with low income. The Marion Street Highrise is one of their many and varying housing options. Marion Street Highrise was built to provide low income elderly persons with comfortable, accessible, efficient housing. The CHA is a 509a tax exempt public charity.

Volunteer opportunities:

- regular scheduled (weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, annually) events: i.e., bingo, sing-a-long, bible study, craft classes
- provide meal and devotions at one or more monthly residents' meeting
- serving and socializing at Thanksgiving meal
- helping at annual Christmas party sponsored by Ebenezer
- something at Easter (no one currently doing)
- servers at December Gala (200 people) at Drew Wellness Center
